VOL. XXXIII. NO. 34 BRISTOL, BUCKS COUNTY, PA., THURSDAY, APRIL 5, 1906. PRICE THREE CENTS

ANDALUSIA.

It is expected that the new organ, which is being built for All Saints Church, Torresdale, will be put in and ready for use on Easter Day. This will be a great addition to the church, no doubt, and its completion has been looked for with much interest. We understand that a new stained glass window will be in the church also and will be dedicated at the Easter service.

The Holy week services of All Saints Parish will be as follows: At All Saints church on Monday and Wednesday at 9 a. m. and on Good Friday at 10.30 a. m. At the chapel of the Redeemer, Andalusia, on Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday at 9 a. m., and on Wednesday and Good Friday evenings at 7.30.

The oft quoted lines of Gray,
"Where ignorance is bliss
'Tis folly to be wise,"
we think has never been thoroughly understood. He does not as some suppose applaud a vacant mind. The facts are there: He was a great lover of books and except Milton was the most learned of the English poets. He had even read of Socrates and the time he had, and he simply means that it would be folly for him to unite himself to some Mollie or Beckey who might bang him over the head with his books or even bite and scratch him a good bit, as some such abused Jonathan informs the Historical society that his Mollie has been doing to him. Many of the English poets have followed Gray's example and also those in other countries but it is very difficult to find out all their names. Of course Chatterton, Keats, Kirke, White and others under thirty must be omitted. To those furnishing the largest lists we will present a horoscope of their lives which will teach them to hypnotize almost everybody, so that in America, at least, there won't be many old bachelors. We can think of only two at present among the poets, Whittier and Whitman, and in England Goldsmith, Cowper, Collins, Rogers, Pope and Lamb. We hope Miss Mary Ash Bethell, a generous contributor to the Woman's Magazine, will engage in this contest. We will take America and England only as being best known.

The tulip tree under which Major Andre was captured was struck by lightning on the very day that the news of Arnold's death arrived from England.

In a letter which Andre wrote to Miss Seward he tells her that when he was arrested everything was taken from him except the picture of Honora Sneyd, which he concealed in his mouth. If we remember right this young lady was unfaithful to Andre and married, we think, some relation to Maria Edgeworth and bearing that name. We do not find any account of Honora's picture among the possessions of Andre which are carefully taken notice of in his Bibliography which is very extensive occupying more than twelve pages in the Magazine of American History, probably no one outside of Washington and Lincoln has had more written about them. The picture of Honora was no doubt swallowed by him and he was faithful to her and faithful to his country, however we may regard him. That he was a lovable character we gather from the fact that when denied his wish to die a soldier's death no American soldier could be found to be his executioner. The verdict of Washington was that he was "more unfortunate than criminal," and that he met his death as "might have been expected from a gentleman and soldier" or words to that effect.

There will be a meeting of the King Library Association to which the ladies and everyone else are invited in the library tonight at eight o'clock to make preparations for an entertainment to be held in the Kindergarten building on April 20th.

In our church we have a "Book of Common Prayer" which means a prayer adapted to all the prayers of every one. So in social life we have Common Sense, which means a sense adapted to all the senses of everyone. But now about the senses or sensations of the soul? Is there a common sense to the intellect which teaches it to decide aright and does not the same common sense show the affections that the opinions of others are entitled to the same consideration as our own? The opinions of others, alas, are sometimes hard to swallow, but nevertheless we must get them down somehow and if possible keep them down, even those of the Buxley Humbug Co.

Neeper Watson, youngest son of William Watson had his foot badly hurt by having it caught in a horse power. Neeper, with several other boys were playing in the barn of Watson Satterthwaite and got on the horse power for a ride. As the machine began to gain velocity the boys jumped and Neeper's foot was caught. Had the power not been stopped immediately by his cousin, Howard Satterthwaite, it is probable his leg and foot would have been crushed.

TULLYTOWN.

Directly after looking over a complete directory of every real estate owner, farmer, manufacturer, business man, tradesman, mechanic, and artisan in Bristol and Falls townships, with Tullytown borough included, I was surprised to find opposite a great many names in the marginal column of remarks, these words: "No good, habits bad." And has it come to pass that a man must be ostracized and set down as untrustworthy by the commercial agency bureaus just because he happens to be one of the class that drinks, as the saying goes. Verily it seemeth so.

The author of the poem herewith inserted, by request, was in the U. S. Navy for thirty years. He was serving on the frigate "Congress" when she was scuttled and sunk in Hampton Roads, Va., by the ram "Merrimac" He is now stranded in the "Sailors Snug Harbor," waiting for the ship to come in and take him home.

I've watched the ships for many a day
When they are sailing up the Bay
All rigged so trim and neat.
But mine will nevermore return,
No tidings of her can I learn;
She's not among the fleet.

Well laden with a goodly store
That I possessed in days of yore,
She sailed across the sea.
I freighted her with all I had,
In days of youth when life was glad,
And hope was strong in me.

Through many years that's rolled around
I've watched the ships when homeward bound
From every foreign shore.
But all my hopes have been in vain,
My ship that sailed across the main,
Will come to port no more.

My ship will nevermore come home;
I gaze across the ocean foam
But sight no friendly sail.
My ship is wrecked on some bleak shore,
On some wild coast—where billows roar,
Or foundered in the gale.

My friends are gone, I'm bankrupt now,
The blast of time is on my brow,
Whilst I, forsaken roam.
The ship that held my little all
Of earthly treasure, great and small.
Will nevermore come home.

The old time promiscuous sexual mingling of dancing exhibitions, is occasionally revived again. There was no mixing up of sexes in the dancing recorded in the Bible; we quote in part "When Moses saw the dancing of the men his anger waxed hot. The women came out of the cities dancing. He danced before the Lord with all his might. Their children dance. The daughters came in and danced. Our dance is turned into mourning." Furthemore, from profane history we learn that while the female canibals are preparing the barbecue, the males dance around the fire. And again, whenever the savages are burning a captive at the stake, they dance and the squaws sit by to watch the heinous sport. Nero fiddled while Rome was burning, and some folks can't help dancing every time they hear a violin squeaking. The next racketing will be an all night smoker and soaker.

Ladies and Gentlemen: the Rev. Doctor F. E. Dager has an amusing lecture on "Blunders," made up from life-like stories. My little talk this morning will be along the same line, and likewise true to life. I saw him one morning about a year ago struting around like a turkey cock. His red necktie was fluttering in the backward breeze. The gem in his bosom dazzled the eye like a sun beam. The hand nearest the heart was overweighted with a signet ring. A roll of greenbacks was bulging his hip pocket. He was a man, take him all in all, whose like I hope never to look upon again. After his feathers were infolded, and he settled down among the little gobblers that surrounded him under a chestnut tree, waiting for the chestnuts to drop, I approached the flock and inquired:

"What kind of a gun is that in your hindemost pocket"

"Why that is an inexhaustible repeater, the kind of a pistol you will never be able to carry;" ha, ha, ha, and all the little turkeys laughed in chorus.

Then I said, "Let me glance at a $500 ring."

"What good will that do you, you will never be able to wear one;" ha, ha, ha, listen to the turkeys laughing too.

Yes, this all came to pass a year ago. And today I saw that old turkey cock standing alone on the sunnyside of the barnyard. The red hanging flap under the beak of the bird had changed color. His wing feathers were all gone. You wouldn't have given five cents for him. Did I laugh? No. Neither did the little gobblers, they were out hunting another chestnut tree to pick. Shakespeare would say: "Where now are you gibes and jests that were wont to set the table in a roar." But to me it is pitiful to see this bird begging for the chestnuts that fall from the table.

Those of our readers who are Sunday school directors, teachers and scholars, are doubtless pleased with the subject matter of the lessons, as they are mapped out for the current year, "The Life of Christ." In merely glancing through the lessons, and afterward by studying the references from Genesis to Revelations, we are confronted in almost every scene by a "Personal Devil." I know that many good people don't believe in this nearness theory, and that reminds me of a metrical quotation running in this measure:

"Men do not believe in a Devil now,
As our fathers used to do;
They have opened the door of every creed,
To let his majesty through.

I am indeed obliged to Andalusia for the reply. I do not think, however, that Burns was speaking about ladies, and from what I have been told respecting the character of Lady Macbeth, I believe she would have taken a switch, and in the language of her liege lord, cried out: "Lay on macduff, and D—d be he who first cries hold, enough."

It has been the custom heretofore for many a season, during the late summer and autumn, to see nearly all the riverside cottages turned into Sunday club houses, and anyone that has had any experience or observation of these resorts, knows very well what a Sunday clubhouse means in the abstract, especially when the onslaught arrives from the cities on Saturday night, to remain over Sunday. The law and order society this year will appeal to the lessors to restrict and restrain certain conditions that always have existed. Our next will deal with the domestic affairs that particularly afflict Tullytown.

I wonder if the liquor license courts when they sit in session, know that two-thirds of the hotels and saloons in the state are owned by the brewers' trust?

I wonder if the fish commissioners know that the set netters and small mesh haulers do some fishing alone at nighttime when the moon has gone away?

P. S. I esteem it an honor to stand side by side in these columns with our sister from Andalusia.

"Good gracious!" exclaimed the mint sauce. "I should think you'd be ashamed to masquerade as 'spring lamb.'" "Well," replied the roast, "It does make me feel rather sheepish."

COUNTY SEAT NEWS

By our Doylestown Correspondent.

Doylestown, April 3, 1906.

Church activity seems to be occupying more attention than anything else at this time for arrangements for the big revival to be held through the month of May by the combined churches of the town, are progressing nicely. As in most other places there is some opposition—or rather disapproval—of the movement, but it is slight. This was found in making the religious census of the town by means of cards on which residents were asked to answer certain questions. Some refused absolutely, and so the total number of residents accounted for is about 800 short of the population. Of the cards 720 were returned and they show among other things the following: members of church, 1505; non-members, 1209; denominations represented, 14. The members are divided up as follows: Presbyterians, 403; Catholic, 167; Methodist, 156; Baptist, 160; Episcopal, 130; Friends, 54; Mennonite, 42; Lutheran, 157; Reformed, 216; Seventh Day Baptist, 1; Colored Baptist, 16; Christian, 1; Brethren in Christ, 1; Congregationalist, 1. It is rather interesting to know that the cards show that several denominations are represented in many of the families. One of the features of the revival will be a chorus choir of about 300 voices.

School Director Irvin M. James has taken the position of business manager of the Democrat.

Thirty-three marriage licenses were issued during the month of March.

"Public sales wouldn't amount to shucks if the women didn't attend," declared a Main street resident today. He probably knows because he is a regular attendant. Anyone who has attended them knows the same thing. Of the crowds at public sales here this past week probably three-fourths of the spectators were women and if anything sold for an exorbitant price a woman generally got it. "That's right," exclaimed a collector at one of the sales, "make it bring $5 or get it" He referred to a woman who had the last bid on an article and was about to pay more than she could get a new one for. But, what's the odds? We'll never know how much we owe a hundred years from now, and, besides, the "old man" foots the bill.

Henry S. Fisher, of this place, and probably one of the oldest blacksmiths in the county celebrated his 84th birthday on Saturday. It has only been a few years ago that he quit the business and now one of the finest buildings in town stands on the site of the old fashioned shop which is still remembered by many.

Bucks county's prison has a new official in charge now as Sheriff Albert S Paxson succeeded Ex-Sheriff W. Harry Smith on Sunday, and his Jailers William Fletcher, of Langhorne, and Howard Douglass, of Bristol, have been given the custody of the keys by jailers Elmer Stout and Bromley Holden, who have concluded their terms with credit to themselves and satisfaction to the public. During their incumbency they made many improvements to the jail and maintained excellent discipline. They were always courteous and obliging and hundreds of friends will regret to see them leave.

Can you imagine a kitten that plays in water like a duck? Mrs. A. S. Walton, of this place, has one which is not only free from the usual feline antipathy for water, but will play by the hour in it.

Landlord George W. Ott, of the Monument House, who recently sold a $5000 herd of Guernsey cattle, has purchased another herd for his farm in Buckingham.

Rev. Charles W. Jeffries, of Jamestown, N. Y., has accepted the call to the pastorate of St. Paul's Lutheran Church.

Deputy County Treasurer C. S. Gulick has sold his house and lot at Blooming Glen, and will move to the county seat.

Commissioners' Clerk Washington Cadwallader this week received a letter from the Norristown insane Asylum asking for the names and addresses of John Williams, aged 32 years, who was admitted to the asylum in 1887, and has died. The letter states that Williams has not been visited from the time he was admitted and that he was taken from the Doylestown jail.

It begins to look as though the Doylestown and Perkasie trolley road would be started this summer. Wynne James, Esq., one of the officers, says that $60,000 of the issue of $100,000 has been secured and that picks will probably go into Crier Scheetz corner at Perkasie in June.

Frank Smith, of Bensalem, and John Eldridge, of Bristol, have been released from the county jail.

Although Doylestown Council, O. U. A. M., has been organized for many years there are two of the charter members still living. They are Andrew B. Richard and O. J. Smith, both of whom still take an active part in the council's affairs.

Doylestown Methodists have a new pastor. Rev. E. F. Hoffman, who has been here for two years, will go to Hamburg, and will be succeeded by Rev. H. O. Carmichael, of Coventry.

Since the writing of our last letter Valmore M. Hellyer, one of the most prominent business men of the town, has died of pneumonia after a week's illness. He was born in Mechanics Valley September 15, 1857, and for many years was actively engaged in business in Buckingham. Since 1898 he has been a member of the firm A. S. Hellyer's Sons, of this place, and at the last election was the defeated Republican candidate for Chief Burgess. He was an active member of the Board of Trade, Doylestown Lodge, No. 245, F. & A. M., R. A. Chapter, No. 270, Aquetong Lodge, No 193, I. O. O. F., and Castle, No. 208, A. O. K. of M. C. He is survived by his widow and two children, Alma and A. Newlin.

Marriage licenses have been issued to the following lower end folks: Edwin F. VanHorn a d Miss Elizabeth B. Sine, of East Bristol; Frank O'Donnell and Miss S. Helen Vancleve, of Southampton.

It is the belief of Rev. Roderick P. Cobb, the new rector of St. Paul's Episcopal Church, that churches are prone to "toady" to wealth and position. He said this in a lenten sermon.

Father John Dever, of Philadelphia, who preached the lenten sermon at St. Mary's R. C. Church this week, said that a good many parents are so busy getting their children into good society that they don't have time to give them religious training and that many members of church attend the services more through fear of hell than from love of God.

Old-fashioned furniture has been bringing enormous prices hereabouts. This week an antique sideboard and a claw-foot table sold for $26 apiece and an antique dressing table in poor condition brought $30. Prism candelabra of old style sold for $30. Speaking of antiques, a large framed picture of ex-President Grover Cleveland, covered by a forty cent piece of glass, brought a nickel.

LEGAL NOTES.

Another hearing was held this week by the jury appointed to assess damages done to property near Parkland by the North Pennsylvania Railroad. The matter has been dragging along for some time and the end is not yet in sight.

Twenty-seven cases appear on the trial list for the term of civil and equity court which begins on April 16th.

Three licenses have been transferred by the court. They are as follows: Plumsteadville Hotel, from Abram Steever to Albert O. Hockman; Bucksville Hotel, from Stephen Dillon to William Transue; Ottsville Hotel, from Thomas Harpel to Stephen Dillon.

Reasons for a new trial in the case of George P. Brock, former cashier of the National Bank, have been filed. They contend that the court erred in not allowing the whole account of Ross, Morgan & Co. to be admitted, and take exception to the Judge's charges.

By a weather report kept here during March it is shown that the average morning temperature at 7 o'clock was 30 degrees, and that the average afternoon temperature at 2 o'clock was 39 degrees.

Doylestown Methodists have not been stirred up for a long time as they were on Sunday morning when the new pastor, Rev. Dr. H. O. Carmichael preached and gave new stimulus to old fashioned Methodism. He has all the characteristics of Southern orators. Handkerchiefs were frequently in evidence and "Amen" and "God bless him" were frequently heard.

"Is there a hell?" Every seat was filled in the First Baptist Church Sunday evening, when Pastor Gilmore preached on the subject. Seems to indicate that there are several people in the county seat interested, probably through religious fervor and maybe through other reasons, we don't care to mention.

Captain William P. Taylor has moved to Reading where his troop of the State Constabulary is located.

Miss Edith R. Watson has resigned her position as a teacher in the township and taken a more lucrative position in Ambler schools.

County Commissioners met on Monday. They received petitions from the supervisors of Northampton township in reference to State Aid and ordered the mercantile appraisers' list published in three papers. The contract for printing school transcripts and registration book was awarded to the Republican and that for printing the tax duplicates to the Intelligencer.

Directors of the public schools decided last night to accept the free scholarship from Lafayette College. Several other important matters were considered. A loan for $2000 was negotiated. The total attendance for March was reported to be 489. Eighty-five per cent. was fixed as the lowest which would exempt a pupil from taking the final examination in June. It was decided to close the schools on Good Friday.

Not a break was made in the slate as prepared at the meeting of Town Council, yesterday, when it re-organized by electing these officers: President, T. O. Atkinson; clerk, A. Harry Clayton; solicitor and treasurer, H. O. Harris; street commissioner, Theodore Holcombe. The treasurer's annual statement which was approved shows that the borough's indebtedness is $26,145.56. Last year $3218 27 was paid for lighting the streets with electric lights and $5994.92 was spent on the streets. Water rent netted the borough $8540.95 and hotel licenses, $840.

Deputy Clerk of Orphans' Court Keyser issued a marriage license to a man aged 71 years and a woman aged 69 years, Monday, and says it's a sign of spring when the old birds mate.

Doylestown coal yards are nearly empty and if the strike continues there will be some cold houses in the town for the dealers say they will be unable to get supplies.

Judge Mahlon H. Stout held a short session of miscellaneous court yesterday morning when twenty-four cases were marked for trial at the coming session of civil court.

Two opinions were handed down. In the case of Shorter vs. Newtown Electric Street Railway Company, the Court ordered that judgment be entered for the defendant. In the matter of the Penn's Manor Meadow Company vs. George Warner the motion to take off the compulsory non-suit was refused.

Rheumatic Pains Quickly Relieved.

The excruciating pains characteristic of rheumatism and sciatica are quickly relieved by applying Chamberlain's Pain Balm. The great pain relieving power of the liniment has been the surprise and delight of thousands of sufferers. The quick relief from pain which it affords is alone worth many times its cost. For sale by Emlen Martin, wholesale agent for Bucks county.

Tonsiline Cures Sore Throat

The throat is one of the most delicate parts of the body. It is also one of the most important, and should be given the best possible care.

The throat is the gateway to the body. The air we breathe, the food we eat, the liquids we drink, all pass through it. It is very easily affected by cold, strain, exposure, etc., and Sore Throat is therefore one of our most common ailments. Strangely enough, it is also one of the most neglected.

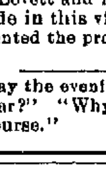

Sore Throat is a very serious matter, for the whole system is in danger in consequence of it.

Every Sore Throat patient is a candidate for Tonsilitis, Quinsy, Diphtheria and other serious or fatal diseases, all of which can positively be prevented by the timely cure of the Sore Throat by the use of TONSILINE.

If taken in time a dose or two will do it.

TONSILINE is made to cure throat diseases and nothing else. It is the one remedy for this purpose sold largely in the United States. Every user endorses it; every physician, knowing its virtues, commends it.

The one most important thing to remember about TONSILINE is the fact that it really does cure Sore Throat.

All druggists, 25c and 50c bottles.

THURSDAY, APRIL 5, 1906.

Republican Convention.

The Republicans of Bucks county will meet in convention in Lenape Hall in the borough of Doylestown, in said county, on Monday, April ninth, 1906, at 11 o'clock a. m., to elect five delegates to represent the county of Bucks in the Republican State convention to be held at the Lyceum Theatre in Harrisburg, Pa., on the sixth day of June next.

By order of the County Committee.
OSCAR O. BEAN,
County Chairman.

George W. McIntosh,
A. Harry Clayton,
Secretaries.

THE STATE CONVENTION.

The Republican county convention to elect five delegates to the Republican State Convention will be held next Monday morning in Doylestown.

The important work of the State convention will be the selection of a candidate for Governor. Upon the result of this nomination will largely depend the success of the Republican State ticket next fall.

There has been a great change in party conditions in the last twelve months. The old dynasty that for years dominated the policy and dictated the nominations in State conventions has been swept from power. For the first time in many a long day the convention date approaches with no slated candidates named for ratification by the delegates. There is a free field and no favor, and it may be depended upon that whoever is nominated at the June convention will be the untrammeled choice of that assemblage.

It is true, that there are reports that the old organization is hoping that some miracle will be worked to restore it to its former prestige and power, but there is no evidence that the convention will be swayed by any influence other than that which springs from the desire to honestly discharge an important duty to the State and to the Republican party.

In view of these facts it is most gratifying to the people of this county, who are interested in healthy, manly politics to know that the candidates for state delegates are men of the very highest type of citizenship. Men who have no personal ends to serve; men who will go to Harrisburg unpledged and with absolutely no motive other than to aid in the selection of State candidates who will best serve the people of the commonwealth.

Messrs. Grundy, Ivins, Trego, Eastburn and Derstine have no opposition. Bromley Wharton, some time ago announced his intention of contesting the election with M. Harvey Ivins, but he apparently has abandoned the campaign. The only objection against Mr. Wharton was that he was holding a public office as private secretary to Governor Pennypacker, and would probably be disqualified from rendering free and unbiased judgment in the selection of a successor to the present gubernatorial incumbent.

It is practically certain that the five delegates nominated will be elected by acclamation on Monday and we believe that these gentlemen will do everything in their power to have the Republican party in the state restored to the confidence of the people. This is the beginning of a new era in politics. There must be re-adjustments all along the line and Bucks county, by the token of the actions of its delegates in the State convention, will, by voices that will not be questioned as to sincerity, proclaim allegiance to the new order of things—for honest politics and clean methods.

When these conditions prevail Bucks county can always be depended upon to do its share for the "grand old party."

LAWFUL ELECTION EXPENSES.

In Berks county it has required a legal opinion to determine whether, under the new corrupt practice act passed at the extra session of Legislature, a candidate for office is allowed to "treat" a friend to a drink. The gist of the opinion was that the candidate must not go the rounds of hotels and saloons on electioneering tours "setting 'em up" to the boys. If, however, the candidate, in his private life has been in the habit of tippling, the act does not impose any restrictions upon his habits, but if he treats, it must be unaccompanied by any solicitation of votes.

The Roberts Act is very stringent in its provisions and prohibits, under severe penalty for violation, the corrupt use of money during any election campaign. Legitimate election expenses under the act are defined as follows:

1. For printing and traveling expenses and personal expenses incident thereto, stationery, advertising, postage, expressage, freight, telegraph, telephone and public messenger service.
2. For dissemination of information to the public.
3. For political meetings, demonstrations and for the pay and transportation of speakers.
4. For the rent, maintenance and furnishing of offices.
5. For the payment of clerks, typewriters, stenographers, janitors and messengers, actually employed.
6. For the employment of watchers at primary meetings and elections to the number allowed by law.
7. For the transportation of voters to and from the polls.
8. For legal expenses, bona fide, incurred in connection with any nomination or election.

The above are given as the authorized expenditures. The act further states that candidates or treasurers of political committees are forbidden to pay, give or lend, or agree to pay, give or lend, either directly or indirectly, any money or other valuable thing for any nomination or election expenses whatever, save as declared in these eight exceptions.

For once we are able to agree with the Doylestown Democrat, and this is on an estimate of the Hon. William Fenton Creasy, of Catawissa, Pa. We fully endorse the Democrat on the following concerning the "Farmer:"

For years he has been in the limelight of publicity and he stands today one of the cleanest of our public men.

The lower house in the Iowa Legislature has passed a bill which contained a provision that one dozen hen's eggs must weigh a pound and a half. While it was engaged in such intellectual pursuits the House should also have required by enactment that legislator's brains should come up to the required average normal weight of three pounds.

The Doylestown Intelligencer has little sympathy with the ubiquitous beggar, especially during these times when the demand for laborers exceeds the supply. The Intelligencer says: "There is very little excuse for any person to go begging in Bucks county. There is work enough here to occupy the time of every person who desires work. Those who can not work can be cared for at the expense of others."

Editor Lovejoy, of the Manayunk Sentinel is a fair critic. He is located near enough to the City Hall to perceive and comprehend the moves that are being made on the political checkerboard in that marble temple of justice, and he is also far enough removed not to be enthralled in the bitter fight that is now being waged by the newspapers. This contest of the Ledger and the Inquirer vs. North American and Record, by the way, is of a "hotter" variety than of which the public generally has knowledge. The Manayunk Sentinel gives unstinted praise to Mayor Weaver for his course in dealing with the Rapid Transit problem and declares that "The high standard of official conduct that the Mayor has maintained ever since the Gas Lease revolution, has made him a host of friends and inspired confidence in his overmastering purpose to do right let come what may."

The Doylestown Democrat declares that the Gazette is using editorial space "to heap abuse upon Senator Grim." No, no! The Gazette never abuses anybody, much less than the Senator from Bucks. We are in the habit of telling the truth, which apparently has caused the Democrat to wince. We have yet to recall the first time to see in the Democrat, under its present management, when anything has been written concerning local Republican politics, that it has not been gross and designed misrepresentation, conceived for the purpose of unjustly injuring a fellowman. Therefore we say that any owner of a newspaper who promotes and encourages such practice is at least unworthy of confidence and respect. We believe in giving every person a "square deal," whether Democrat, Republican, Prohibitionist, or whatsoever political faith. We believe that the majority of men are honest. They follow the light as they see it and we credit anyone who is striving sincerely to do that which is right and we regret that Senator Grim is of the character that permits the prostitution of the columns of his newspaper. Stop lying and tell the truth! By this time the diversion should prove to be enjoyable.

Grand Officers Visit Bristol Division.

On last Friday evening, March 30th, Bristol Division No. 107, Sons of Temperance was honored by the annual official visit from the Grand Officers of the State of Pennsylvania.

The division was called to order promptly at 8 o'clock and after the opening ceremony the Grand Officers and visiting members from Chalfont, Nicetown and others, representing eleven other divisions, being in waiting were admitted at this time. Three new members were admitted during the evening. The following named officers were elected for the ensuing term: P. W. P., Mrs. George J. Sheppard; W. P., William Brannigan; W. A., Louisa Smiley; R. S, George J. Sheppard; A. R. S., John F. Smoyer; F. S., Mrs. Mary E. Warden; Treasurer, William A. Mohre; Chap., Florence Smiley; Cond., Edna Warner; A. Cond., Katie Lynch; I. S., Wallace Ablitt; O. S., James Hughes; Trustee, Jessie Lewis; Organist, James Guy.

The regular business of the evening having been disposed of the division was placed in the hands of the Grand Worthy Patriarch, Carl F. W. Bergmann, of Philadelphia.

The Recording Scribe, George J. Sheppard, made a short report of the work done during the year, the condition and standing of the division which was very favorable, after which the following programme was rendered under the direction of the Grand Worthy Patriarch:

Remarks, Mrs. Fannie C. Mount, Grand Scribe; recitation, Mattie Chambers; remarks, James Scott, G. W. A.; solo, Viola Smiley; address, Carl F. W. Bergmann, G. W. P.; remarks, Burton L. Rockwood, P. G. Chap.; recitation, Florence Smiley; remarks, Anna B. Stackhouse, G. Cond.; remarks, William B. McNeil, P. G. W. A.; recitation, B. Daniels, P. W. P., Nicetown; remarks, Mrs. G. J. Sheppard, P. W. P.; remarks, Rev. John Simmons, W. P., Chalfont; recitation, ..tha Schade; remarks, James Guy, I. W. P.; recitation, Carl F. W. Bergmann, G. W. P.; remarks, Thomas Jones, P. G. W. P.

At the end of the programme ice cream and cake was served.

The Grand Worthy Patriarch congratulated Bristol Division on the good work that had been done during the year. This Division is one of the best in the Order and deserves all the support that can be given for the good work that can and will be done. Bristol has long felt the want of a Y. M. C. A. to keep the young men and boys off the streets and a proper place to spend their evenings profitably. Now here is an organization where both young men and women, boys and girls from the age of fourteen years can come and join this order, thereby insuring one pleasant evening each week. A place to save them from roaming the streets of our town.

In order to interest our members, some sort of entertainment must be provided for each meeting night. At times probably some of these entertainments may be an annoyance to some people in the vicinity of the hall, yet there is not the objectionable loud talking and noises that would have to be endured night after night were a beer saloon on that same corner. Besides this organization meets only one night each week and is a place to keep some of our young folks from the street corners. We invite any person who has a desire to come and join Bristol Division which meets every Friday evening in Washington Hall, corner Radcliffe and Walnut streets.

Sunday Base Ball.

Editor Gazette:—In a recent number of the Gazette, a news item informed the reader that one of our religious organizations had placed itself on record as being opposed to Sunday base ball, at the same time calling upon the authorities to supress such desecration of the Sabbath. Now the writer does not agree with these well intentioned but mistaken young people, and others who advocate knockout drops for Sunday ball players, because experience has taught the world to many very plain truths which have a direct truth bearing upon the question at issue. One is, you cannot legislate righteousness into a man's heart—the Puritan blue laws are a standing monument to the misguided zeal of that once powerful sect. Another is, our own young men after spending a week in the mills, workshops and factories about town, must have some sort of recreation on Sundays, and if they cannot have it in the open they may have it under cover. If they cannot have baseball under Gods own blue sky, they may have "crap" and draw poker in the thickets and gambling dens.

Some fifteen or twenty years ago, the Bristol boys were wont to spend their Sundays playing baseball on the field above the Hollow creek, lying between the canal and the railroad. The lads in those days knew nothing of the mysterious words "seven come eleven," and they were happy in their ignorance. But what a change the years have wrought. Baseball is no longer played in that field and the playground is covered with thickets, but if the waters of the creek could speak as they flow what tales they might tell of the unlawful games that are played within the secret confines of that woody undergowth. The children of this generation are, indeed, wiser than the children of light.

Now, I am not to be undestood as advocating the desecation of Sunday. Far from it. Sunday as a day of worship and of rest from the every day cares of life is undoubtedly a wonderful institution, and I am thoroughly in sympathy with him who said: "He who ordained the Sabbath loves the poor." Yet we must realize that man viewed from various standpoints is a very complicated piece of machinery. I firmly believe that he was created to love, to know, and to serve God here upon earth, and then to enjoy him forever in heaven; but aside from this fundamental principal of Christianity it is well to know that religious fervor is to a great extent a matter of individual temperament. God in his infinite wisdom has given more natural piety to woman than to man, because upon the mother devolves the duty of training the children. So we find it all along the line: one young man has a natural inclination for music, another for literature, another for the temple, its services and ceremonies, and still another may have an abundance of what we term in modern parlance "Sporting Blood," which if rightly directed may go a long way in preparing him for the battle of life. Now it strikes me if we are going to save our American Sundays from degenerating into a bacchanalian feast it behooves us to lure our sport loving youth away from the thicket, the gambling den, the speak-easies, the drinking clubs, by encouraging them to attend at open air games, among which baseball stands pre-eminent. These sentiments may grate rather harshly on a supersensitive ear, but it is well to consider matters, not as they might be but as they really are; and though many of your young men do sanctify the day by attending divine worship, let us do what we can to save the others, by drawing them away from those ante-chambers of hell, the speakeasies and the gambling dens.

An Appreciation.

Editor Gazette:—There is a saying "'Tis better late than never," sometimes amended by "Better never late." This seems to apply to a matter that has rested with the writer as a sort of duty, namely, the preparation of an "appreciation" however feeble it may be, of the rare treat given Bristol two weeks ago by pastor Johnston, to whom we are indebted for the lecture of Professor Green, of the West Chester Normal School, upon "The Musical Scale of Life."

This title was somewhat of a puzzler to some who were unacquainted with the Professor, and possibly, some of his hearers were expecting a musical discourse. Were this the case, that idea was soon dissipated when the lecturer told us he was not musical in the generally accepted meaning of the term. While stating this fact Professor Green told the audience that life normally at least, was a symphony, and that all Nature moved harmoniously, were our ears only properly attuned thereto. Taking up the musical scale and applying it to human lives the lecturer began with C—Cleanliness—outwardly as well as inwardly, showing how it was the groundwork of goodness and indispensable. D—Digestion, came next in the scale, a note quite as requisite to harmony as any whether lower or higher. E—Education, was next in order and was eloquently dwelt upon. Many people, we were told, thought and spoke of education as a means of "getting a living," overlooking the broader and nobler end, that of teaching us how to live, and to enjoy life. F—Force, gave the speaker an opportunity to humorously allude to the well known cereal of that name, as well as to pay respects to "that preparation of excelsior—Shredded Wheat." Seriously, force of character, "getting things done." was strongly urged upon the audience as indispensible to success, whether temporally or spiritually. "Running the scale" farther along A—Ambition, was reached. This trait rightly trained, is another important element in the true harmony of life, while B,—Benevolence, the faculty of wishing well to our fellows, gave the professor a chance to speak of a class of which, he said, he did not suppose there were any in Bristol, or in Bucks county, but it was often met with elsewhere—people who were not willing to do anything themselves, and when they saw any of their fellows trying to do something were, if not actually in open opposition, liberally throwing cold water if not worse, upon their more energetic and liberal minded neighbor. Oh no, professor, there are none such in Bristol; here, we "are all, all honorable men."

The crowning portion of the lecture was upon C—Character, and while the lecturer was at all times exceedingly interesting, and at frequent intervals eloquent, his apostrophe, so to speak, upon Character, the perfect Christian character, held the almost breathless attention of the hearers. The writer does not want to be over-enthusiastic, but in his opinion, Bristol has been rarely favored to listen to such an entertainment as well as deeply instructive lecture, and the worthy professor will doubtless receive a warm welcome should he ever come this way again.

A Burlington Editor's Experience.

Burlington Gazette.

The editor of the Gazette certainly had a remarkable experience yesterday. He helped to lay the mortal remains of his elder brother Theodore Glasgow, V. M. D., of Philadelphia, who for some weeks had been an uncomplaining sufferer, in their final resting place on a Bucks county hillside, after which he had lunch with a company which included his dear old mother, who next month enters on her 95 year, and who now bids fair to reach the century mark.

Temperance Lecturer Coming.

Miss Lillian M. Phelps, of Canada, an exceptionally fine speaker, will, under the auspices of the Bristol W. C. T. U., give an address in the chapel of the Methodist church, Tuesday evening, April 10th. All are cordially invited.

The Union County Courier of Elk Point, South Dakota, has the following to say of Miss Phelps: "Miss Lillian Phelps, of St. Catherine, spoke to a large audience in the Methodist church, Sunday evening in behalf of the W. C. T. U. movement. This lady differed somewhat in the manner and means used to convince people of the wholesomeness of the temperance cause. Instead of ranting about drunkards and the saloon, she gave a very excellent lecture on the saloon, its moral—or rather immoral—influence, and how to fight the liquor question on those grounds. No offence could be taken at what was said, and every word uttered was most emphatically proven truth. With a few more such women the W. C. T. U. will never languish and die."

"Say, paw." "Well, son?" "What is a merger?" "Hash is a merger, my son."

The topics discussed were varied and of absorbing interest. The room was comfortably filled and after the addresses an informal luncheon was served those who came from a distance.

CARE OF THE LAWN.

The meeting was called to order by the President of the Association, Thomas C. Knowles, of Yardley, who introduced as the first speaker, Frank M. Bartram, of Morrisville, who told of the best method to pursue in the care and adornment of the home lawn.

In renovating an old lawn, Mr. Bartram said, judicious care should be exercised in cutting out trees, that the cutting should not be done heedlessly. Have a definite plan. The extent of the estate is of little consideration. The speaker said special consideration should be given to obtain views from the house. Plant on the sides of the house, leaving the centre open. Walks and drives should be as few as possible and direct. Useless curves have no value in beauty or utility. He advocated solid mass planting in the border hedges. For the lawn Mr. Bartram strongly advocated annual seeding, fertilizing and rolling and frequent mowing. Bearing of seeds is the hardest strain on plant life.

THE NEW AGRICULTURE.

Probably the most entertaining address of the afternoon was that made by Burnett Landreth, Sr., of Bristol, who took for his topic: "The New Agriculture." Mr. Landreth stated that agriculture had advanced to a stage of scientific pursuit. In former years only the most ignorant class was engaged in farming—genuine "clod-hoppers." Now farming engages the attention of the most intelligent minds. There are many things in connection with the agriculture of the present day that have been advanced to a scientific standard, chief among which are the fertilizers. Scientists have discovered fertilizing ingredients which have been produced in concentrated form and given agriculture its greatest boom.

As late as twenty years ago the efficacy of spraying to cause the destruction of vegetable growths on the cuticle of plants was discovered. Then followed spraying for the eradication of the insect pests and their eggs. At first poisonous liquids were used. The idea being that the insects being fed poison would naturally die. It was then discovered that many of the species of insects were "sap suckers;" they buried their "noses" in the trees or plants and the poison spray did not affect them. The "sap suckers," scientists learned, breathed through pores in their bodies. The "big doctors" then went to the chemists and received an oily liquid that would gum up the openings in the insects bodies, thereby causing asphyxiation. Thus has the sciences of chemistry and entomology given to agriculture a gift of the greatest value.

Mr. Landreth then told of the remarkable experiments—successful ones—made in progressing the growths of plants with the aid of electric lights. Most plants grow in the day time, and rest at night. But now with the aid of electric lights plants are forced to work twenty-four hours each day.

In Boston in great green houses spring vegetables have been advanced ten per cent in growth in this manner. Mr. Landreth then told of the startling results obtained by the use of currents of electricity whereby plants have been increased in growth as much as fifty per cent. Electric currents have also been successfully used in destroying the enemies of the grape vines in Portugal and other foreign countries where parasites were destroying the great vineyards. Mr. Landreth closed his address by stating that agriculture as a pursuit is worthy the attention of the most intelligent minds.

WITH THE BIRDS.

William B. Evans, of Moorestown, N. J., told of the different varieties of birds he saw in a walk from his home on a Christmas day. His remarks were interesting throughout and it was surprising to learn that he discovered fifteen or more different kinds of birds on a day in the middle of winter.

Edward Briggs, of Newtown, told of "Bird Migration," and Herbert L. Coggin, of Philadelphia, gave a most interesting description of "Birds Nests."

Dr. C. C. Abbott, of Trenton, gave a five minutes talk on the intelligence of birds. The meeting was a delightful one and several Bristolians bbecame members of the Association.

Columbia Ran Aground.

The steamer Columbia, of the Delaware Navigation Company, ran aground off Riverton Friday afternoon and all efforts to move her were unsuccessful that day. After leaving Tacony the pilot, confused by the heavy fog on the river, ran ashore when opposite Palmyra, but reversed the engines and backed off. He started again for the Riverton pier, but misjudged his position and struck a bar, where the boat stuck hard and fast. The Annie L. Vansciver and a tug that was passing with a tow tried to draw her off but without success. A few passengers who were aboard bound for Burlington were taken ashore by Captain John Bell, of J. C. Frismuth's launch, Albia, the first of the fine fleet of launches belonging to the Riverton Yacht Club to be put in commission this spring. Michael Faunce, who has charge of the pier at Riverton, went aboard the Columbia and finding several horses there, took aboard a supply of feed.

Will Build $10,000 Fire House.

Architects are now working on the plans for a new fire house to be owned and occupied by America, Hose, Hook and Ladder Company, No. 2, of Bristol. It is estimated that the proposed building will cost about $10,000. For years the company has been adding to its building fund and the sum now on hand justifies entering into a contract for a new building. The property now occupied by the company was owned by the borough but council has given a deed of it to the Company.

The new building will be a two-story brick affair with all the latest improved accommodations. It will be constructed so as to be able to house an Ariel truck.

The company proposes to hold a fair in the near future in order to augment the funds in its building account.

A Prize Shooting Match.

The Bristol A. C. Baseball Club will hold a blue rock shooting match on the grounds of the Bristol Shooting Association, near Croydon, Saturday afternoon, April 7th.

Two prizes will be offered, 1st, one-half ton of coal; 2nd, pair of chickens.

Preceeding this shoot there will be a series of three target events for merchandise prizes which have been donated by the following Bristol merchants: Walter Leedom, Maurice Watson, James Robinson, Charles Strumfels, Joseph B. Singer, Robert P[illegible]rson, William P. Wright, Bucks County Gazette, Weekly Courier. Also other [illegible]ies by private individuals. There will also be sweepstake shooting.

The Juvenile Court Will be Explained.

This evening, in the assembly room of the high school building, under the auspices of the Mothers Club, Mrs. A. R. Ramsey, probation officer of the Philadelphia Juvenile Court, and the Hon. Mahlon H. Stout will speak on the "Juvenile Court." The public is cordially invited. The juvenile court is an institution that has been recently established in Philadelphia and has resulted in a great deal of good, removing as it does, erring youths from contact with hardened criminals. Judge Stout has stated that such courts meet with his views and he is in entire sympathy with the plan. There should be a large attendance at the meeting.

The establishment of the Juvenile Court and the probation system of caring for youthful criminals in Philadelphia is the result of the work of the New Century Club. In May 1903 through the efforts of Mrs. Ramsey, who speaks in Bristol this evening, and other members of the club, bills were finally passed by the Legislature making the Juvenile Court a permanent institution in Pennsylvania.

As probation officer all children awaiting trial are given into the charge of Mrs. Ramsey. She sees them, talks to them and takes care of their health. Daily she receives reports from twelve other probation officers The children like Mrs. Ramsey. The boys who are branded incorrigible take off their hats in her presence and wash their faces in the morning because she wants them to.

GAVE A $500 BOND

Interest to be Used Each Year to Purchase Gold Emblem for High School Graduate.

At the regular meeting of the Bristol School Board held last night Joseph R. Grundy presented the public schools a five hundred dollar, 4½ per cent. bond, the interest of which shall be expended yearly for a gold medal to be presented to a member of the graduating class as a reward of merit. The presentation was made by President Leech, and came as a complete surprise to the Board.

In appreciation of Mr. Grundy's action the Board adopted the following resolution:

The Board of Directors of the Bristol Public Schools desire to place on record their appreciation of the gift received this evening from Joseph R. Grundy, viz a Five Hundred Dollar 4½ per cent Bond, the interest of which shall be expended yearly for a suitable medal to be presented at the close of the school year, as a reward of merit, in a manner prescribed by the Board; and to record their hearty approval and indorsement of the project made possible by the kindness and generosity of Mr Grundy.

It is with much favor and satisfaction that the Board looks upon this action, coming as it does from one of our most public spirited citizens With a thought, therefore, of the higher type of citizenship exemplified in this action of tonight, a citizenship which assists as well as encourages the intellectual development of our boys and girls, to the end that our nation may become greater through the culture and efficiency of the the individual citizen, and with a thought also of the profit as well as the inspiration which will come to the scholars of our schools, down through the years to come, through the impulse of this generous act, we, the Board, accept the gift so kindly bestowed, thank Mr Grundy most heartily for the interest manifested in the schools, as well as for his generosity, and hereby decide that the medal shall be named the Joseph R Grundy Medal.

Bills amounting to $83.98 were passed and ordered paid.

The resignation of Miss Florence Ancker, an assistant teacher, to take effect April 27, was accepted

The treasurer reported that he had received $1752 from the delinquent tax collector and $27.50 for tuition from non-residents.

Lecture on Thaddeus Stevens.

Prof. Smith Burnham, of the West Chester State Normal School, gave a very interesting address last evening at the high school building, on the life of Thaddeus Stevens, the great commoner. Mr. Burnham was interesting throughout and was listened to attentively. The high and grammar schools furnished music for the occasion.

At the conclusion of the programme, President Leech, of the School Board, announced that at the meeting of the Board, a gift of a $500 thirty-year bond had been received from Joseph R. Grundy, the interest of which was to be used in the purchase of a suitable medal each year for a member of the graduating class. This announcement was received with loud applause. Mr. Leech said that it was Mr. Grundy's wish that his name should not be used in connection with the gift, but the Board insisted in giving him the credit. He declared he knew Mr. Grundy would not like that part of the Board's action. Doron Green then read the resolution adopted by the Board and upon motion of W. C. Peirce the representative citizens present heartily thanked Mr. Grundy for his subbstantial interest in the schools.

Good Friday Translated from the German.

The following is said to be a copy of the most memorable judicial sentence which has ever been pronounced in the annals of the world,. German scholars declare it to be a correct translation of the sentence of death of Jesus Christ.

"Sentence pronounced by Pontius Pilate, Intendant of the Province of Lower Galilee, that Jesus of Nazareth shall suffer death by the cross. In the seventeenth year of the reign of the Emperor Tiberius, and on the 25th of the month of March, in the most holy city of Jerusalem, during the Pontificate of Annas and Caiaphas, Pontius Pilate, Intendant of the Province of Lower Galilee, sitting in judgment in the presidential seat of the Praetors, sentences Jesus Christ of Nazareth to death on a cross between two robbers, as the numerous and notorious testimonials of the people prove

1. Jesus is a misleader.
2. He has excited the people to sedition.
3. He is an enemy to the laws.
4. He calls himself the Son of God.
5. He calls himself falsely the King of Israel.
6 He went into the Temple followed by a multitude carrying palms in their hands.

Orders—The first centurion, Quintus Cornelius, to bring him to the place of execution, forbids all persons, rich or poor, to prevent the execution of Jesus. The witnesses who have signed the execution against Jesus are: 1. Daniel Robani, Pharisie. 2. John Zorobabels. 3. Raphael Robani. 4. Capet. Jesus to be taken out of Jerusalem through the gate of Tournea."

FOUGHT WITH LAWTON

Frank Musnuff, of Bristol, Spent Five Years in the Army Fighting Indians.

CHASED GERONIMO

Interesting Story of Bristol Policeman Who Lived Among the Apache Indians in the Early '80s and Nearly Famished on the Trail. Was One of Lawton's Trusted Couriers.

There are probably not a dozen people among the 8000 population of Bristol who have knowledge of the interesting and thrilling career of Frank Musnuff, who is now a member of the local police force. Twenty-five years ago Musnuff was a cavalry soldier down on the borders of old Mexico, in Arizona and New Mexico, serving in a troop the Captain of which was Henry W. Lawton, who acquitted himself with such distinction in the Philippines and China and later succeeded to the command of the United States Army. The First Lieutenant of Musnuff's troop was Frederick Grant and the Second Lieutenant was A. L. Smith, who during the Spanish war was a major of a regiment of regulars.

ENLISTED IN 1880.

On the 7th day of December, 1880, Frank Musnuff went from Bristol to Baltimore and enlisted as a private in the United States Cavalry. After being provided with a uniform he was sent, with other raw recruits to Jefferson Barracks, Missouri.

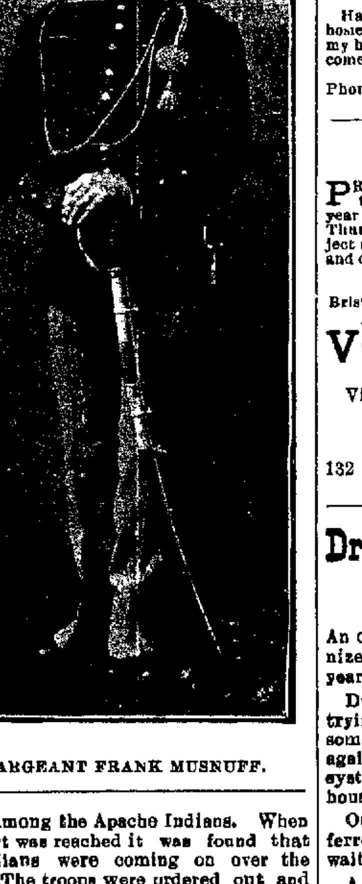

In January 1881, Musnuff was assigned to Troop B, Fourth U. S. Cavalry, commanded by Captain Henry Lawton and Lieutenant Grant. The Regiment was commanded by Lieutenant-Colonel Geo. A. Forsyth, who was repeatedly breveted by meritorious service and conspicuous gallantry during the Civil War.

AMONG THE UTE INDIANS.

On the 9th of May, 1881, Musnuff left Fort Riley with his regiment for the Ute reservation on the Colorado river, in Colorado At that point General Kinsey assumed command of the troops and the work began of moving the Indians to a new reservation a hundred miles further up the river. It was the Bristolian's first experience with Indians The latter sullenly complied with the orders, after many pow-wows. The Utes were a wealthy tribe, being rich in stock, owning splendid herds of horses. Nearly the entire summer was consumed in getting the big tribe of Indians moved to their new location.

INTO THE APACHE COUNTRY.

In September 1881, "hurry" orders were received for the troops to go to Fort Thomas, Arizona, where there was an outbreak among the Apache Indians. When the Fort was reached it was found that the Indians were coming on over the hills. The troops were ordered out and surrounded the Indians and caused them to surrender.

In October, 1881, Troop B, was transferred to Fort Stanton, New Mexico, which became headquarters of the Fourth Cavalry, and remained such until 1884. During Musnuff's stay at Stanton there were numerous outbreaks and raids by the Apaches and time and again he responded to "Boots and Saddles" and went on the trail of the warring bucks.

In the summer of 1884 the 4th Cavalry transferred with the 6th Cavalry, the former going to Fort Huachuca, Arizona, down on the border of Old Mexico. It was here that Musnuff saw service of the strenuous order and with Captain Lawton under the direction of General Crook chased Chief Geronimo and his band of treacherous Apaches down into Old Mexico, through canons that were as hot as ovens, over mountains and across the baking deserts.

Musnuff's troop established a supply camp in Goadelupe canon. The camp and all supplies were left in charge of a half-dozen soldiers. As I troop was traveling towards B troop's supply camp one morning they got sight of Geronimo's band in the Mule mountains. A general chase was taken up. The Indians visited the camp, shot down on the guardians of the camp from the rocks above and killed four of the six left in charge and destroyed the whole camp.

The troops followed the Apaches into Old Mexico, into the Sierra Madre mountains, to Geronimo's stronghold. The Indians were hard pressed and Musnuff and his troops frequently came upon dead horses left by the fleeing Indians.

On the trip the troopers were provided with ten days' rations and were gone twenty-three days. It was at this time that the Bristolian suffered such severe hardships. Many of the men wore out their shoes and cut the hoods from their stirrups to cover their feet. It was during the dry season and half of the horses died for the want of water. The men also became nearly crazed from thirst in the desert. They traveled all day and went into "dry" camp at night. There was no water for coffee and Captain Lawton issued orders that no bread or bacon be given the men as it would increase their thirst. The horses actually became crazy. On the march the animals' flesh actually fluttered and they wobbled on their legs and one half of them dropped under their riders. When water was at last discovered in the mountains sentinels were placed to guard the treasured spot.

Mr. Musnuff has many interesting reminiscences which he related to the Gazette reporter and we regret that we have not the space to give them to our readers.

The half-tone picture presented here was taken in Arizona and sent to Bristol to Mr. Musnuff's mother. The picture was considerably faded and spotted, but it was a good likeness of the subject at that time. Mr. Musnuff speaks in the highest praise of Captain Lawton. He was good to his men and was loved by all. Frequently Musnuff was called upon by his captain to do courier service, carrying important dispatches across country to any headquarters.

The subject of this sketch ended his army career on the 6th day of December 1885, having been mustered out at Fort Huachuca. He immediately returned to Bristol, his old home and birthplace. When honorably discharged, Musnuff was the ranking duty sergeant of the regiment and was also quartermaster sergeant of his troop. He has been on the Bristol police force for a number of years.

Dr. Stoever's Tonic Herb Bitters

An old German remedy, and the recognized standard of excellence for over fifty years as a Spring tonic.

During this season, one of the most trying on humanity, nature insists on something to build up and fortify itself against disease which will fasten on a system run down by the rigors and close housing of winter.

Our forefathers were wise. They preferred to take a preventative rather than wait for sickness to get a hold on them.

A full quart of this aromatic tonic costs no more than a doctor's prescription—one dollar a bottle.

It will cure Derangement of the Liver and Stomach and is invaluable for cases of Poor Circulation, Run Down Condition, Cramps and Lost Appetite. Its purity is guaranteed. For sale by JUPITER IN A MIRROR.

A Remarkable Phenomenon Concerning His Satellites.

In a very old number of the Bulletin de la Societe Astronomique de France some one made a note of the fact that he had seen Jupiter's satellites in a mirror. The 5th of November being a clear night, a correspondent, C. D. R. Andrews, determined to make the experiment with an ordinary looking glass.

"The image of Jupiter in the glass," he writes, "was distinctly accompanied by a small star on either side, one nearer the planet than the other. I then turned my telescope on the planet and found at once that the positions of satellites three and one and two coincided with the positions of the stars seen in the mirror. Satellites one and two were at the time (about 8 30 p. m.) extremely close together, and I have no doubt that these two were seen as one in the glass.

"The explanation of the phenomenon is a simple one. We cannot see the satellites in the ordinary way because Jupiter's brilliance overpowers their feebler light. In reflecting the image in the glass some of this superfluous light is lost, and the satellites are given a chance to show themselves."—London Chronicle.

WHITE RAINBOWS.

They Are Formed by a Fine Rain and a Strong Sun.

Though rainbows are generally associated with colors, there is such a phenomenon as a white rainbow. The circumstances necessary for its formation are a fine rain and a strong sun. The phenomenon is due to the optic principle known as interference. If the drops of water be very small, the interference of the rays causes such a complete overlapping of the colors that the bow appears white

That is to say, the various prismatic colors, instead of being thrown out separately, as in the ordinary prism, are thrown one on the top of the other, and the light is thrown by the sun, as it were, on a sheet of rain. The fine close rain produces the same effect as a woven texture. This result is still more noticeable where a fog takes the place of the rain.

The phenomenon is not often noticed, because the conditions necessary to the formation of a white rainbow are a strong light, a close rain and a sun lying near the horizon. These three conditions are not often present at the same time.—London Standard.

A Princely Gift.

Perhaps the most magnificent gift ever made by any individual to any nation was the presentation by Lady Wallace to the English nation of her husband's remarkable art collection in 1897. It contains over 600 pictures of every school, including thirteen by Sir Joshua Reynolds, furniture, china and objects of art innumerable of a value between $15 000,000 and $20,000,000. It was left absolutely to the nation, the only stipulation being that it should be kept distinct from other national collections.

A Secret Defined.

A secret is a thing which you communicate to one whom you can trust. He, in turn, tells it to somebody that he can trust, and that somebody reveals it to another somebody whom he can trust. And so it goes the rounds, but it is still a secret, although everybody knows it

$1000 REWARD

Is offered as a guarantee that neither

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription

NOR

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery

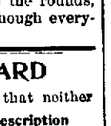

contains alcohol, opium, or any harmful drug. Any one publishing false statements concerning their ingredients will be prosecuted. Doctor Pierce's Family Remedies are compounds of medicinal principles, scientifically extracted from native roots that cure the diseases for which they are recommended. They are medicines which have enjoyed the public confidence for over a third of a century. They are medicines not beverages, made to satisfy a craving for "booze."

"Golden Medical Discovery" regulates and invigorates stomach, liver and bowels, and cures dyspepsia, purifies the blood and tones up the system generally.

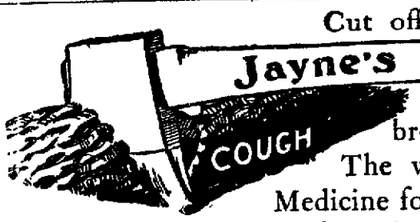

"Favorite Prescription" cures female weakness, irregularities, exhausting drains, painful periods and kindred ailments peculiar to women. Accept no substitute for these medicines, each of which has a record of marvelous cures. Substitution means selfishness on the part of the dealer who is looking for the greater profit on an inferior article.

"Our daughter who was attending college became very nervous and we were advised to try Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription," writes Mrs. M. C. Fox, of 57 E. Leonard St., Grand Rapids, Mich. "We did so and then you advised us to get the 'Golden Medical Discovery' also. She took four bottles of the 'Prescription' and three of the 'Golden Medical Discovery,' and you never saw such a change in a person. She said she did not feel like the same person. She was about seventeen years old at the time. I will gladly recommend Dr. Pierce's medicines to every one. I advise parents who have young daughters who suffer from nervous troubles to try Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription at once. I am sure it will help them."

$50,000 GIVEN AWAY, in copies of The People's Common Sense Medical Adviser, a book that sold to the extent of 500,000 copies a few years ago, at $1.50 per copy. Last year we gave away $50,000 worth of these invaluable books. This year we shall give away $50,000 worth of them. Will you share in this benefit? If so, send only 21 one-cent stamps to cover cost of mailing only for book in stiff paper covers, or 31 stamps for cloth-bound. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Dear Sir. A gallon saved is $4 or $5 earned.

Two gallons saved is $8 or $10 earned.

Four gallons saved is $16 or $20 earned.

Five gallons saved is $20 or $25 earned.

It costs $3 or $4 a gallon to paint, besides the paint; as much to brush-on a gallon of worthless paint as Devoe.

Mr Ezra Rathmell, Williamsport, Pa, always used 11 gallons of mixed paint for his house; Devoe took six.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy the Best and Most Popular.

"Mothers buy it for croupy children, railroad men buy it for severe coughs and elderly people buy it for la grippe," say Moore Bros., Eldon, Iowa. "We sell more of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy than any other kind. It seems to have taken the lead over several other good brands." There is no question but this medicine is the best that can be procured for coughs and colds, whether it be a child or an adult that is afflicted. It always cures and cures quickly. Sold by Emlen Martin, wholesale agent for Bucks county.

Forcible Facts.

One-sixth of the deaths from disease are due to consumption. Ninety-eight per cent. of all those who have used Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery for "weak lungs" have been perfectly and permanently cured. Cornelius McCawley, of Leechburg, Armstrong Co., Pa., had in all eighty-one hemorrhages. He says: "My doctor did all he could for me but could not stop the hemorrhages, and all gave me up to die with consumption." What doctors could not do "Golden Medical Discovery" did. It stopped the hemorrhages and cured their cause. This is one case out of thousands. Investigate the facts.

Free. Dr. Pierce's great work, The People's Common Sense Medical Adviser is sent free on receipt of stamps to pay the expense of mailing only. Send 21 one-cent stamps for paper covered book, or 31 stamps for cloth binding. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N.Y.

About Rheumatism.

There are few diseases that inflict more torture than rheumatism and there is probably no disease for which such a varied and useless lot of remedies have been suggested. To say that it can be cured, therefore, is a bold statement to make, but Chamberlain's Pain Balm, which enjoys an extensive sale, has met with great success in the treatment of this disease. One application of Pain Balm will relieve the pain, and hundreds of sufferers have testified to permanent cures by its use. Why suffer when Pain Balm affords such quick relief and costs but a trifle? For sale by Emlen Martin, wholesale agent for Bucks county.
